

University Hospital Ulm

Location

Ulm, Germany

Built

international competition 2001

The design for the extension of the Surgery Unit at the University Hospital, Ulm was awarded 4th prize.

The four-storey, circular buildings are linked to one another by two vertical connection points. The spatial organisation and directions are clear for patients and visitors. The glazed buildings make reference to their surroundings and offer individual day rooms for patients and optimum working conditions for hospital personnel.
